

My heart will wait

Joe Brooks

I whisper goodbye, I swear it's not for the last time.
I know it's not easy.
This could never be easy.
Five-thousand miles with traffic of you in my mind,
There'll be pain, there'll be glory.
Girl you don't need to worry;
Cause my heart will wait.

My heart will wait for you.
My heart will wait.
My hearts gonna wait for you, always.

I hear your tears, they're falling down through these eyes.
Pouring out just to reach me.
Calling out for some meaning.
With all those times we sat and dreamed of life.
Oh how the future it could be,
The flawless drawings of beauty.
So don't give up, girl, don't give in.
Don't stop, believing in me.
This is just the beginning.

Cause my heart will wait.
My heart will wait for you.
My heart will wait.
My hearts gonna wait for you, always.

Yeah, yeah.

My heart will wait. Oooh.
My heart will wait for you, wait for you.
My heart will wait for you always.
Cause my heart will wait for you.
It's gonna wait for you.
It's gonna wait for you, ahh.
My heart will wait for you.
It's gonna wait for you always.
It's gonna wait for you.
It's gonna wait for you.
It's gonna wait- for you.
It's gonna wait- for you.
My heart will wait until I will be with you.

I whisper goodbye, I swear it's not for the last time.
I know it's not easy.
It's not meant to be easy.
