

Bad Blood

Joe Lynn Turner

Oh lord, hear me calling
Something wrong in the promise land
Angels, hide their faces
As the rain starts to fall
From the tears of their fathers sins

Bad blood, and the storm clouds
Keep on rising
Bad blood, and the raging waters flood
Bad blood, and the heart of a man buried bad blood, drowning in all the bad blood

We take life all for granted as we stand in the acid rain Got no future, no understanding In the eye of the storm and we're lost in the hurricane

Bad blood, and the storm clouds
Keep on rising
Bad blood, and the raging rivers flood
Oooh, and the heart of a man is dying
Bad blood, only flesh bone and mud
Bad blood, and the sky just keeps on falling Bad blood, and the rising waters flood Oooh, and a rage of angels calling
bad blood, drowning in all the bad blood

Voices raised in anger
Blood spills in the street
Death and destruction
Dishonor and deceit
We got brother against brother on this crazy wheel we spin no love for one another cryin' on the wind

Bad blood, and the storm clouds
Keep on rising
Bad blood, and the raging waters flood
Bad blood, and the heart of a man buried
bad blood, drowning in all the bad blood

Bad blood
Bad blood
Bad blood

Bad blood, running in my veins
Bad blood, the whole world gone insane
Bad blood, a self inflicted fate
Bad blood, and the storm clouds
Keep on rising
Bad blood, and the raging rivers flood
Bad blood, and I feel my heart is dying
Bad blood, drowning in a ocean of bad blood
