

Blood Red Sky

Joe Lynn Turner

They walked along the midnight sea
Lost in a dream of mystery
The stars they fell in streams of gold
They can't hold on they can't let go

Oh time catches up with the past
Oh stolen moments never last

Under a crescent moon
Two lovers torn apart too soon
Why is their destiny denied
Love always plays the fool
The hand of fate can be so cruel
Their tears fall under a blood red sky

They drank the wine by candlelight
Two desperate hearts holding back the night
The cover of darkness gives way to the dawn
He reached out for her but she was gone

Oh time catches up with the past
Oh stolen moments never last

Under a crescent moon
Two lovers torn apart too soon
Why is their destiny denied
Love always plays the fool
The hand of fate can be so cruel
Their tears fall under a blood red sky
