

Rescue You

Joe Lynn Turner

Restless night, can't get to sleep
I'm going out of my mind
Losing the fight, I'm in way too deep
It's just a matter of time
Lost in a world that's empty and cold
The loneliness won't let me be
Someone to love, someone to hold
I need your touch desperately
Can't you see I'm standing in the darkness
Reaching for the door
There came a voice I never heard before
I'm here to rescue you
That's what I heard her say

I'm gonna rescue you
I'm here to rescue you
Your heart can still be saved
I'm gonna rescue you

She took my hand, we stepped into the night
She held my dreams in her eyes
I felt her kiss so warm and so right
Then she vanished in the light
There's a world that's warm and full
But loneliness is still around
Someone to love, someone to hold
I'm just waiting to be found
Can't you see me standing in the darkness
Reaching for the door
I heard a voice, the one I heard before
I'm here to rescue you
That's what I heard if say

I'm gonna rescue you
I'm here to rescue you
Your heart can still be saved
I'm gonna rescue you
I'm here to rescue you
That's what I'm gonna do
I'm here to rescue you
I'm gonna rescue you
My love will pull you through
I'm gonna rescue you
