

Lonely

Joe Perry

Well she rocks like Bourbon Street
She's hot like Texas heat
Salem has its mysteries
But she'll knock you right to your knees
She's got it all and then come on
Like a crystal ball my dreams she hung
Madison streets I'm always lost
Reno and Vegas I wondered how she'd be

'Cause she told me, told me
I won't be lonely no more
Told me, told me
I won't be lonely no more

Well she'll squeeze you out Chicago style
Warm you on that magic mile
Kill no time, only doubt
Said alphabet she's in her count

She's more than a Maui smile
In Tokyo she's set her style
She's natural as Central Park
But uptown she'll break your heart in two

Well traveled long I traveled wide
I killed to keep her satisfied
Every town has its magic spot
She's got it all money could buy

She rocks like Bourbon Street
She's hot like Texas heat
Like Madison street, I'm always lost
Need her badly I wanna talk in sleep

'Cause she told me, told me
I won't be lonely no more
Told me, told me
I won't be lonely no more
