Shooting Star

Joe Perry

No one knows how much time has passed That i've returned from space at last

A lot of wounds that hurt and bleed The scars of which you'll never see

My brand new ship is stellar bound To search out a place i've never found Where i go only time will tell There's a lot of space between Heaven and hell

Chorus: A million miles away. i don't care what they say I'll be with you, my love, so from my side don't stray
