You don't understand it
All of a sudden something's wrong
You take it for granted
All of a sudden time is gone

You put a little distance in between it Hope it makes sense later on

You don't know what happened
Dreams never turn out like you planned
The next moment you wake up
Stranded in a one night stand

You put a little distance in between it Until you seen it hope that later on

I know it's hard to wait that long But right now baby We both agree, something's wrong Something's wrong

All of a sudden
May be weak and try again
But baby, baby, baby I don't know when Until then

You put a little distance in between it Until we seen it Maybe later on

I know it's hard it seems so long We both agree, oh baby I know, I know.
