

Dilemma

Joe

It feels like I'm in a race
The way I'm running through your heart
And running away from another
A vision of your face
Is love that is breaking me down
Like a bottom looking for cover

I promised that I'd be faithful
But I let you down graceful
I don't wanna make you more than it has to be
But who's gonna be grateful?
And who's gonna be hateful?
And it's all me

Which one will I choose?
Which one will I lose?
Which one will I save?
Which heart will I embrace?

One is gonna smile
One is gonna cry
First I'll feel like living
Then I'm gonna die
This is my dilemma,
This is my dilemma

Don't wanna do this face to face
Maybe I'm making this hard
Why should it go any further?
But I'm trying to find the place
Who knew I'll be making a choice?
When you wonder
I know it's gonna be painful
Actions that are shameful
I can't interrupt my head, once it's all on me
So losers gonna be envy
And others will look like they scream
I swear I didn't mean

How can I confuse, is it what I do?
Which one will I take
Her heart won't let it take

One is gonna smile
One is gonna cry
First I'll feel like living
Then I'm gonna die
This is my dilemma, my dilemma, my dilemma
This is my dilemma, my dilemma, my dilemma

One is gonna smile
One is gonna cry
First I'll feel like living
Then I'm gonna die
This is my dilemma
This is my dilemma

Maybe I still deserve to have one of the other
The illusions I could not feel
Couldn't feel when my
From a distance I see them flourish
Tryin' to fill up this space
With love, with love
Should take its place

Dilemma, dilemma, dilemma

One is gonna smile
One is gonna cry
First Ill feel like living
Then I'm gonna die
This is my dilemma, my dilemma, my dilemma
This is my dilemma, my dilemma, my dilemma

One is gonna smile
One is gonna cry
First Ill feel like living
Then I'm gonna die
This is my dilemma

Dilemma, dilemma, dilemma, dilemma
