

It Gets Better

Joel Faviere

They got your walls as tall as the ceiling or your hearts curled up in a ball on the floor its never been this hard to push on through the dark I know its tough to make a smile creep out of the broken doubt and the rest of you is torn just wait they got more words in store like you're stupid
I think they're stupid you wonder why they do this There ain't a reason They think they're tough right?
taking your time to make a rough night For someone else its not a dumb fight Cause all we have is who we are Who we are Not everybody has a heart as thick as ours
Keep aiming for the stars
Don't forget who you are Take it for granted
The love they've been handed Yeah we're all misdirected We try to learn the lessons but when you're alone
Your heart turned to stone
No heart or home
Stolen conclusion
Your minds all turned over from words of illusion
but you're fine
You're fine
Lay your head down
It'll be alright
Take the time to realize, they're all just lies.

cause not everybody has a heart as thick as ours
keep aiming for the stars
not everybody has a heart as thick as ours
keep aiming for the stars
Its so hard to let a smile creep out of all the broken doubt When you're gone, alone, cause they take you down, they skin ya to the bone.
Do you know who you are?
Cause I know who you are You're a pinch of perfect a dash of worth it Don't take your life
Just stay tongue tied I know its hard do they know its this hard to make a smile creep out of a pile of broken doubt When all of its gone, they take you down, they take your stars.
But i need you to shine for me tonight
I need you to shine, I need you to shine Cause it doesn't look like it gets It doesn't look like it gets better
With all of this heavy weather

But I swear that it does.
but I know you think twice cause of the heavy heavy weather and you don't know whether to stay.
Because not everybody has a heart as thick as yours Keep aiming for the stars, don't forget who you are Cause you've gotten this far, don't let them take it all.