

Save Game

Johan

You drove me away, out of your life again
Into the darkest minor cold and empty place
Ran out of luck, you'd never throw your hand
Took all the fuel, broke every rule
To win this race

Well, if I could only save this game
Before it gets all the same
And this could be a great escape
Reload and play all over again

Driving too fast, now you are miles ahead
Into the night my radar arrives, make no mistake
Try to explain, but you wouldn't understand
It's getting you killed, the walls I've built will never break

Well if I could only save this game
Before it gets all the same
And this could be the great escape
Reload and play, start over again

For every gain a greater loss
For every win a higher price to pay
Loosing control again

Fatal exception on the screen
Fatal injection holds the price you ...
Too late again

I really should have saved this game
We could have made a hall of fame
This could have been the greatest game
Reload and play, start over again.

You drove me away out of your life again
