

Suffer Baby

Johan

You will dry when I wash, shout it out when I talk
You begin when I'm done, always right when I'm wrong
It's the same everyday, things are going your way
In the heat of the night, everything comes to fight

So baby, don't suffer, cause baby I'm trying
I could hide when you seek, going strong when you're weak
I stay cool when you're hot, always there when you're not It's your thoughts in my head, they're driving me mad
It's tearing me up, you don't know when to stop
So baby, don't cry more, cause baby I'm trying

Anything I'll ever do, it's nothing compared to the things you do
Can't you see, you are killing me

I will swim, when you drown, keep it up when you're down
I will laugh when you weep, stay away when you sleep
All the sad words you row, all the bad things you know
Not a burn in my heart, now I know where to start
And baby, you'll find out, that baby you're mine now

Anything I'll ever do, it's nothing compared to the
things you do
Can't you see, you are killing me
And anything, no matter what I do YOU always come up with something new that's worse and the curse
Are you through like I am with you
All the things you do, can't see you are killing me
