

Tomorrow

Johan

Once upon a time, somewhere down the line
Something came along, gave us peace of mind
The word is on, before too long will I be gone

Blame it on the moon, blame it on the stars
He was selling out, selling guns where you want
Nowhere to go, it's all been fucked up long ago

No need to run and hide
Cause tomorrow will come to cancel the future
Tomorrow's a gun, loaded confusion
Tomorrow it's on, there is nobody left to complain
This will last to eternity

Trouble on the phone, early morning call
Time is running out, gonna have a ball
The word is on before too long we're dead and gone

Tell it to the world, tell it to the sky
Tell it to the trees, find that no one can reply
You got it all, such building bombs are just enough

No need to run and hide
Cause tomorrow will come to cancel the future
Tomorrow's a gun, loaded confusion
Tomorrow it's on, there is nobody left to complain
We're telling words to eternity

Once upon a time, somewhere down the line
Something very strong came along, blew our mind
Without a fault, today I think we lost it all

No need to run and hide
Cause tomorrow will come to cancel the future
Tomorrow's a gun, loaded confusion
Tomorrow it's on, there's nobody left to complain
We're telling words to eternity
Tomorrow will come
Yeah, tomorrow's a gun
Tomorrow it's on, there's nobody left to complain
We're telling words to eternity
