Driving out on Ponchatrain Louisiana mud
Cleaning off the insects to get a little light
You're confined to Dallas and I think you're right
To find other solutions maybe not but I might I might be looking at trouble again fighting above my weight

But when things look so easy you want to be careful in case

Close as I am to you I'm closer to Gila Bend I'll call you in the morning and tell you where to send The last thing we talked about after you had left that message on my party line

That you were miles ahead

To set you up instead

But I might be looking at trouble again fighting above my weight

But when things look so easy you want to be careful in case

Dancing Undercover of a Mariachi moon

When the clouds passed over us

We'll be out of here soon

Thanks for thinking of me and thanks for the flowers Deadly nightshade is beautiful I could stare at them for hours

I crossed the border this morning you come across tonight

You lost the map of Mexico that wasn't very bright I could be looking at trouble again fighting above my weight

But when things look so easy you want to be careful in case

Dancing Undercover of a Mariachi moon When the clouds passed over us Dancing dancing dancing We'll be out of here soon
