Guts

John Cale

The bugger in the short sleeves fucked my wife Did it quick and split Back home, fresh as a daisy to Maisy, oh Maisy

And the twelve-bore it stood in the corner Quite operatic in its self disgust It blew him all over the living room floor Like parrot shit, parrot spit, parrot shit was shot

Now suppose it was someone familiar Someone we all would know Embarrassing denouement, ne c'est pas? Familiar hyperbole

And there would go the secret plot
The piss had missed the hole in the pot
Like that ancient teenage dream
From soul to poison, soul to poison, soul

Guts, guts, got no guts
And stitches don't help at all
Guts, guts, got no guts

Holes in the body, holes in the legs Holes in the forehead, holes in the head Holes in the body, holes in the legs There should never be holes at all There should never be holes at all

So kill all you want or more Make sure, do it right Dead is dead and door nails forget

And then you'll notice How the waster and the wasted Get to look like one another

In the end, in the end In the end, in the end In the end, in the end In the end, in the end
