

Give It All Away

John Elefante

Deep in the heart of a man
There are battles that we fight within ourselves
We question the surest of things
We keep secrets in our hearts we never tell
And we say that we rely on You
that we will seek Your way
But to give You all and nothing less
Do we really have the faith?

Can we give it all away, give it all away
Give it all to You
When we give You just a little
We give You nothing at all
Can we give it all way, give it all away
Give it all to You
When the only thing that matters
Is the hardest thing to do

Why would a man give up his soul
To gain a world that has no just reward
We're lead to believe in ourselves
But without You there's nothing to look toward
You can remove the veil of darkness
That has covered up our face
And take us from this wretched land into Your holy place

And we say that we rely on You
That we will seek Your way
But the hardest of all questions
Do we really have the faith?
