

Even After All This Time

John Farnham

Sometimes when people meet
Before too long they feel they were always meant to be Sometimes I look around
Wondering where I might be now
If I'd never met you
I might have never found out what it means
To make a simple dream come true
Without you

You've given me all that I could ever hope to find
And when I think of what we have
I just cannot help but smile
'Cause I know that I could never find
A better friend in life
And I still feel the same way
Even after all this time

Some might want yesterdays
Forever lost to the world
If only
But you don't have to be hiding from the passing years
You don't need to worry
You become more beautiful each day
Time could never take away
This gift of grace
