

In The Garden

John Fogerty

In the garden of the moon
In the garden of the sun
In the temple of the ages
There sits the ancient one
With a smile on his face
And a twinkle in his eye
Got a secret in his heart
He's got a plan big as the sky

In the garden
In the garden
In the garden
In the garden

Said the children of the moon
To the children of the night
We are seekers of the ancient
We are seekers of the light
We have journeyed from forever
From our home behind the sun
We have journeyed from tomorrow
To find the door; the ancient one

In the garden
In the garden
In the garden
In the garden
