

Here, Air

John Frusciante

How can I be you, I could have been
I would like to start over again
Angels did I fail you with my fall
What are we but the cause of it all

It's been a long time
Of getting out of myself
Now that Im here I find
That what gives you life
Is all you are
It's you have

Hey you
Hey you

How can I get just one more chance
I see you in pain and I wish I had
The ability to be your man
They once told me that time would come to pass

Now I know
To be careful
What I don't believe

Cause that fate keeps on going
Right out of my reach
What's good for you is good for me too
Do you hear I'm here for you now
I am here for you now
