Overload

John Legend

Yeah we used to flirt with freedom 'fore everybody knew our nam

We became their favorite secret, love for love and not for fame Oh when I was your user, your FaceTime abuser, dose after dose 'til we crashed

Now they bet on our game, say well go down in flames, it's too good but we never could last

But oh, we was undercover 'til it overflowed, over exposed But oh, chained our love together, never took it slow And now we know, life on overload, love, love...

Don't we always make a show of love, love, love, yeah...

Let that cellphone ring, let that bluebird sing, let that messa ge say unread

Let them talk about us, let them talk too much while we rule the whole world from our bed

'Cause oh, we was undercover 'til it overflowed, over exposed Oh, chained our life together, never took it slow And now we know, life on overload Don't we always make a show of love Life on overload, must we make a spectacle of love?

Oh yeah, yeah

'Cause oh, we was undercover 'til it overflowed, over exposed Oh, chained our love together, never took it slow And now we know, life on overload Don't we always make a show of love Life on overload, must we make a spectacle of love?
