John Lennon

You know I love you, baby, please don't go, well, well You know I love you baby, please don't go Oh, you know I love you, honey child

There's nothing that I wouldn't do for you right now You know I love you, baby, please don't go, well, well You know I need you, honey, please don't go, well, well You know I love you baby, please don't go And you know I love you, honey child

There's nothing that I wouldn't do for you right now You know I love you, baby, please don't go You know I want you, honey, please don't go, well You know I want you baby, please don't go You know I love you, honey child

There's nothing that I wouldn't do for you right now You know I love you, baby, please don't go, well You know I want you, honey, please don't go You know I want you baby, please don't go You know I want you, honey child

There's nothing that I wouldn't do for you right now You know I love you, baby, please don't go, well
