John Maus

when the city gets you down you've got to go back home to your old town to your old town to your old town to your old town to your old town to your old town when the traffic light makes you frown you've got to go back ho me to your old town to your old town to your old town to your o ld town to your old town the sound of wind blowing through the grass and familiar street s waiting for you in the old town in the old town in the old to wn in the old town
