

The Peace That Earth Cannot Give

John Maus

let's break through the madness of the night everything is gonna be alright soon this life will be over run through the darkness and the streets so no one else can see death move a little closer you say you really really love me but that's because you hate me now i say i really really hate you but that's because i love you ask yourself, do you really really want this life? do you really really want this?

i need to know, i need you now ask yourself, could you ever make the sacrifice? could you ever ever stop it? i need to know. i want you dead ohhhh

ohhhh
ohhhh

every day i dream of you because i'm stuck inside this place dream of all the things you do
hateful, scary, smelly flesh sick and sad and worth place to turn it off to mourn for death to die for you to eat myself piece by piece until i'm gone to break though the madness of the night everything is gonna be alright
