Heartache

John Mayall

I've been talkin about with heartache a pillow bringin wet in tears i found a girl and she's breakin my heart and i don't know if she really cares darling i can't live in my lonely place you know she's so far away, i dream about her angel face every morning we've spent together, each moment is a precious thing i wanna tell her about the all her love in my heart and she may never see me again darling i can't live in my lonely place you know she's so far away, i dream about her angel face noone in this world can help me, if i can never be free hear me confess all my feelings for you, imagine that you love me darling i can't live in my lonely place you know she's so far away, i dream about her angel face
