Walk Tall

John Mellencamp

The simple minded And the ill informed Can be easily led astray And those that cannot connect the dots Hey look the other way People believe what they want to believe When it makes no sense at all And I wish you all along the sideline The strength to

Walk tall Yeah walk on Through this world Walk tall

Somewhere out in the distance Is the death of you and me Even though we don't think of it much It's still out there for us to see If you treat life like a bar room fight You'll die stinking of gin No drunkards are allowed in heaven No sinners will get in

Walk tall Yeah, walk on Walk tall Through this world Walk tall

So be careful in what you believe in There's plenty to get you confused And in this land called paradise You must walk in many men's shoes Bigotry and hatred are enemies to us all Grace, mercy and forgiveness Will help a man walk tall

So walk tall Yeah, walk on Walk tall Through this world Through this world

Yeah, walk tall Then walk on Walk tall Then walk on Through this world Through this world Through this world

Walk tall Walk tall Then walk on Jištěno z WYW.txp.cz Walk
