

Everything's Ok

John Miles

Stevie found some mercy
On the town last night.
Same old style, same old smile.
Said: "Everything's all right".
In that bar by the river,
Where Jimmy plays the blues,
He found himself an angel.
She looks a bit like you.

She's taking care of business,
Got him off the ground.
Haven't heard him laugh that way
Since you were hangin' round.
Tells me that he's doing fine.
Baby, I'm not that sure.
I think Stevie's one more broken heart
Looking for a cure.

He said: "Everything's all right now.
Everything's okay, Yeah".
He said: "Everything's all right.
It's getting better every day".

He was long time no seen,
Guess he's been awhile.
We talked about the old days
And two cats on the tiles.
We thought it was forever,
But some things cannot last.
Now you, me and Stevie
Are shadows on the past.

Said: "Everything's all right now.
Everything's okay".
He said: "Everything's all right.
It's getting better every day".
Well there was something in his eyes
Or it could have been his voice,
But something there was giving away his game.
I could see right through his lies,
But he knew he had no choice.
Didn't make me feel much better
To know he loves you just the same.
Oh, just the same.

He said: "Everything's all right now,
Everything's okay, Yeah".
He said: "Everything's all right.
It's getting better every day".
Gettin' better
"Its getting better every day".
Gettin' better

Gettin' better
Gettin' better
"It's getting better every day".

Gettin' better
Gettin' better
"It's getting better every day".
Gettin' better
Gettin' better
"It's getting better every day".
Gettin' better
"It's getting better every day"
