Everytime

John Parr

You'll soon get over it, you'll find somebody new You're better off out of it, that girl's no good for you
Cry if you wanna cry, shout if you wanna shout
Why don't you let it out, but they don't realise
I heard it all a million times, tried to explain, but here it c omes again

Everytime I hear those sad songs, makes me wanna try again All this time and I'm still hurtin', love will get you everytim

You'll find somebody new, she's not the only one
She left you black 'n' blue, you should be glad she's gone
Cry if you wanna cry, shout if you wanna shout
Come on and let it out, but they don't realise It's getting harder every day, I feel the same, and here it com es again

I stare at your photograph, times we laughed, oh the memory of you

Was it all so bad, all we had left with you You were the one, you gave me life Why did you change, when I still feel the same everytime, everytime, it's gonna get you everytime...
