

It's Startin' All Over Again

John Parr

Caught that look in your eye, he's back again
Told me time after time, he's just a friend
I need to know, I can't go on, I won't survive without you
You said you'd laid that ghost to rest, why don't you confess

It's startin' all over again, if this is the start, baby, where will it end
You broke it in two and this heart just won't mend
And it's startin' all over again, startin' all over
I just gotta find out, is it better with him
I've been livin' without, now he's movin' in
I need to know, I can't go on, I won't survive without you
Why d'ya have to hurt so much, I can feel it when we touch

I get down on my knees and pray, you'll be comin' back some day
I can feel it

I can feel it, startin' again, oh I can feel it...
