

Restless Heart

John Parr

This is no game,
Standing in the dark,
I swear I heard you calling my name
And I knew things had changed
No pain no gain

Something in your eyes just told me that this nightmare would end
And I had found a friend

Shout it from the highest steeple, let it out to all the people Play it on the loudest speaker, burnin' like the highest fever
You hit the right spot

No more lonely nights,
with a restless heart
Roll the dice,
make a brand new start
When the world you knew got shattered,
you and me were all that mattered
Just one way I'm gonna lose this restless heart, running away with you

Human again,
I take you in my arms and hold you 'till the fear is all gone
And now the race is won

Shout it from the highest steeple,
let it out to all the people
Scream it on the loudest speaker,
burnin' like the highest fever
You hit the right spot

No more lonely nights,
with a restless heart
Roll the dice,
make a brand new start
When the world you knew got shattered,
you and me were all that mattered
Just one way I'm gonna lose this restless heart,
running away with you

There's a new horizon that we're both heading to It's out there in the distance, and it's playin' our tune, runnin' away
