Running The Endless Mile

John Parr

You may be wrong, you may be right, we dont need this out tonight
When all is said, I still love you
A lonely day, a lonely night, keeps me on this endless flight
When all is said, I still love you

Oh no, dont tell me about it, oh no, I dont wanna hear about it

Running the endless mile through the lonely night
Trying to chase those dark clouds away
Running the endless mile through the lonely night
Miles and miles away, I wanna sleep all day Youre gonna hear me coming, youre gonna see me running the endless mile

Dont walk away, dont stay and fight, nothing I can do seems right
When all is said, I still love you

Oh no, dont tell me about it, oh no, I dont wanna hear
about it

Running the endless mile through the lonely night
Trying to chase those dark clouds away
Running the endless mile through the lonely night
Miles and miles away, I wanna sleep all day
Youre gonna hear me coming, youre gonna see me running
the endless mile

The silence is deafening, I hear my heart moan
The water is getting in, can you hear me, can you hear me

Running the endless mile through the lonely night
Trying to chase those dark clouds away
Running the endless mile through the lonely night
Miles and miles away, you can see me coming your way

Running the endless mile through the lonely night,
running the endless mile
