

Underneath The Same Moon

John Rich

Shadows of the night
Moving on the ground
Like silent clouds
They follow me, around

As I wonder through the dark
Through the midnight mist
Remembering our last kiss
Do you know how much you're missed

Tonight I stand in this lonely place
And I've searched the heavens for some saving grace
And I cry, dieing without you
I know you're somewhere looking up there too.
Right now that's all two distant hearts can do
At least we're underneath, underneath the same moon

Picturing your face
Flowers in your hair
Like you always wear
Oh, I can see you there.
Longing to be touched
But you're out of reach
Oh, hold on please
Wont you wait for me.

Tonight I stand in this lonely place
And I've searched the heavens for some saving grace
And I cry, dieing without you
I know you're somewhere looking up there too.
Right now that's all two distant hearts can do
At least we're underneath, underneath the same moon

Shadows of the night
Moving on the ground
Like silent clouds
They follow me, around
