

Jane

John Wetton

It's a dazzling morning
With a blue sky dawning
When all our sadness dies

And the joy of waking
To a new day taking
The sleep from our eyes

Sensing that you're just a breath away
No shadow of doubt that will remain

Jane
Whenever I need a dream to hold on to
Jane
I can remember loving you

With your spirit in me
For as long as there'll be
Stars up in the skies
And it's never too late
For this moment we'll wait
All of our lives

Sensing that you're just a breath away
No shadow of doubt that will remain

Jane
Whenever I need a dream to hold on to
Jane
I can remember loving you

I can feel you, night conceals you
Waiting for me silently
Jane, there's a light that shines from you

No shadow of doubt that will remain
Jane
