

Real World

John Wetton

Is it just an illusion, that I'm losing it, it didn't happen yesterday
Is it only confusion, that I'm using amusing myself from day to day Tell the truth, have we gone too far?
Losing sight of what we did and who we are

'Cause it's the real world that we're living in
And with human kind I feel I don't fit in Sometimes it just frightens me to think of where I've been
And the many times I felt like giving in But the real world is the right place to begin
