

Woman

John Wetton

When you say that you will never part from me
I believe you always, come what may
I sometimes have doubts, but when you speak to me
In seconds they're all washed away

And I know it never would occur to you
That you mean the world and more to me
Say that you'll stay for eternity
For it's you gives me reason to be

Woman oh woman, if you could only see
Woman oh woman, just what you mean to me

At times I know I am impossible
I can ignore you, but you should know by now
One look from you and I understand
And the frown disappears from my brow

In my life the girls were a necessity
There were others but none compared to you
I'll give you that life if you want it now
In the end that is all I can do

Well I tell myself this is the last time
I want the whole thing, nothing less will do
No-one else can give me just what I need
So always I come back to you...

Woman oh woman
Woman oh woman
