

The Last Time

Johnny Cash

How many times now has it been I swore I'd never do again
What I've done right now
It seems I walk right out that door Just to walk back in for more
Until you pull me out

From these lies in my mind When they all seem to say
The last time I tried Was the last time I failed

Last time I didn't try hard enough to make it right
I let that evil side come back around
This time you're gonna see one more chance is all I need
To show You that I'm trying to let you down
For the last last time

You said you'd never put me through Something I can't say no to
If I really try
But still this cycle that I'm in Is like a carousel of sin
That takes me for a ride

On these lies in my mind When they all carry on Saying the last time I tried Was the last time they won

Last time I didn't try hard enough to make it right
I let that evil side come back around
This time you're gonna see one more chance is all I need
To show You that I'm trying to let you down
For the last last time

And the seeds that I've sown grow wild On my futile attempts to change
But like an addict going dry I think I'm ready... this time

Last time I didn't try hard enough to make it right
I let that evil side come back around
This time you're gonna see one more chance is all I need
To show You that I'm trying to let you down
For the last last time

Last time I didn't try hard enough to make it right
I let that evil side come back around
This time you're gonna see one more chance is all I need
To show You that I'm trying to let you down
For the last last time
