

Eternal

Johnny Hates Jazz

So long my dear friend
The journey is at an end
Yet somehow the flame is still burning
Maybe I've lost my way
But this much I need to say
There's something between us
Eternal

All that you mean to me
Will last for infinity
But something tells me I have to go
Face the great unknown

One door is closing
Another is opening
Beyond this, the future is waiting.

All that you mean to me
Will last for infinity
But something tells me I have to go
Face the great unknown

So long my dear friend
And if you find love again
I pray that your heart will be healed
I beg you, do not grieve
For this much I do believe
There's something between us
It will always be near us
There's something between us
Eternal
