Johnny Mathis

Funny, you're a stranger who's come here
Come from another town
Funny, I'm a stranger myself here
Small world, isn't it?

Funny, you're a girl who goes traveling Rather than settling down Funny, 'cause I'd love to go traveling Small world, isn't it?

We have so much in common it's a phenomenon We could pool our resources by joining forces from now on

Lucky, you're a girl who likes children That's an important sign Lucky, 'cause I'd love to have children Small world, isn't it?

Funny, isn't it?
Small and funny and fine

Lucky, 'cause I'd love to have children Small world, isn't it?

Funny, isn't it?
Small and funny and fine
