

Gone, gone, gone baby's gone
Leave me broken on a dead end phone
You said you reached for the time
But this time the time ain't enough

A split second a blink of an eye
When she's gone yeah she's gone, baby's gone
Yeah she's gone baby's gone
And I've just felt like shit ever since

We had a real good time, and we were best friends
But we would drive and strive until we hit a dead end
And she's gone baby's gone
And I've just felt like shit ever since

Gone, gone, gone baby's gone
Leave me broken on a dead end phone
Now you can feast on the time
And catch up on all you left out

Dead head, yeah I'm dead in the head
Cause when she's gone yeah she's gone
Baby's gone yeah she's gone baby's gone
And I've just felt like shit ever since

We had a real good time, and we were best friends
But we would drive and strive until we hit a dead end
And she's gone baby's gone
And I've just felt like shit ever since

Waking up from a coma with your brand new eyes
See the world in a different way
Even though the past is just a memory away

Even though you lost it
I remind you that thing ain't that easy to forget
Disappointments and weak regrets
What about my broken heart?

Gone, gone, gone baby's gone
Leave me broken on a dead end phone
You said you reached for the time
But this time the time ain't enough

A split second a blink of an eye
When she's gone yeah she's gone, baby's gone
Yeah she's gone baby's gone
And I've just felt like shit ever since
