

Time To Cry

Jon Allen

I didn't know what love was till I let it slip away
I didn't know the night until I lost the day
I didn't know the question till I was asking myself why
Now I know it's my time to cry

I had all the heavens and the stars at my command
I held love like a rare bird helpless it in my hands
Oh but I was cruel and like a fool I let it die
Now I know it's my time to cry

Time to cry, time to cry
Now that it's all over
It's my time to cry

They say all's fair in love, who am I to disagree
I lived by the sword that now is cutting me
There's no getting round it, it's one eye for an eye
Now I know it's my time to cry

Time to cry, time to cry
Now that it's all over
It's my time to cry

Wish I could find the words to make you change your mind
Wish I could feel the warmth of your lips one more time
But you're gone forever and the river has run dry
Now I know it's my time to cry

Time to cry, time to cry
Now that it's all over
It's my time to cry

Time to cry, time to cry
Now that it's all over
It's my time to cry
