Overwhelming

Jon Bellion

Yeah, I think I got one Her soul is presidential like Barack, son Yeah, she call me Goose, I call her Maverick cause of Top Gun They say we annoying, they just jealous cause we got love Yeah, I got a hot one She don't want a problem if there's not one People come around and start some stupid shit to start one She give you the people's fuckin' elbow like The Rock, son

There is a potion in your lips, so sweet, I die There is an ocean in your hips, so deep, I dive I hear an opus when we kiss that completes my life Yeah, I think I got one And every single little thing about her is so

Overwhelming Everything about you is so overwhelming When I think about you, it gets overwhelming Cause everything about you is so overwhelming Come over here and overwhelm me

Hey, do I impress you? I really like the way you rock a sweatsuit When you working out and I'm just watching how your legs move They would think that you was, like, developed in a test tube You deserve a theme song You could be the shoulder that I lean on Love it when you're late for work and try to slip your jeans on You be bumping Chili Peppers all up in your Nissan

There is a potion in your lips, so sweet, I die There is an ocean in your hips, so deep, I dive I hear an opus when we kiss that completes my life Yeah, I think I got one And every single little thing about her is so

Overwhelming Everything about you is so overwhelming When I think about you, it gets overwhelming Cause everything about you is so overwhelming Come over here and overwhelm me

You write checks that my ass can't cash I bit a little more than I can chew I bit a little more than I can chew You write checks that my ass can't cash I bit a little more than I can chew I bit a little more than I can chew Cause everything about you is so

Overwhelming Everything about you is so overwhelming When I think about you, it gets overwhelming Cause everything about you is so overwhelming Come over here and overwhelm me
