

Dance Your Life Away

Jon McLaughlin

The sun sets on a saturday night and the keys are in my hand
Jamie says that she wants to stay in but she just don't Understand

I worked all week at the restaurant and i just need to cut loose

So if you feel like me get your brand new shoes meet me at 1st avenue

No excuses let the music rock your body right

No more sorrow

We might not be here tomorrow

So just live for the moment and dance your life away

The clock says it's a quarter past 2

But we just don't wanna leave

If we can't dance on the ceiling we'll be dancing in the street

No excuses let the music rock your body right
