

Why I'm Talking To You

Jon McLaughlin

Entering a room on an autumn night
I ran across a beautiful sight
From that point on when i was not looking at her i said, nothin g else looked quite right Now i was not about just to let this go
I wasn't gonna leave and not know the way her voice sounded Against my ears
So i went over to say hello
And i whispered in her ear real slow i said...

The stars moved when you walked in the room
That's why i'm talking to you My heart won't beat in the groove unless i'm talking to you i k now i'm not the only fool with eyes
And you'll get attention from all the other guys
I'm gonna stand here til you realize why i am talking to you

Now i had to take a minute to take her in I did not know where to begin Cause i was just moved by the way she dressed and the way her d ress hit her skin
Any girl who's met any guy will know that some guys are just fo r show
So i looked into her eyes and i said this is as true as the tru th goes...
I'm gonna make sure i let everybody know that...

Let me take a minute to explain myself
Let me say some words that may help
The reason why i've got to be close to you is just that i don't want nobody else
I'm gonna make sure i keep you all to myself
