Misunderstood

Jon Secada

I've been living life without a reason I've been living love without the time You've lost touch with what I'm feeling I got way too tired to read between the lines.

I've been misunderstood I've been mistreated Somehow I knew you would not Take back what you said I've been misunderstood but Your wish in granted By daylight I'll be gone By daylight I'll be gone.

Are you asking me if there's a reason To continue what I thought was doing fine So so fine Contentment lacks mutual pleasing Is much different than both being satisfied.

I've been misunderstood I've been mistreated Somehow I knew you would not Take back what you said I've been misunderstood but Your wish in granted By daylight I'll be gone By daylight I'll be gone.

Never thought I would consider Loving someone new Cause in my plans for happiness I only thought of you.

I've been misunderstood I've been mistreated Somehow I knew you would not Take back what you said I've been misunderstood but Your wish in granted By daylight I'll be gone By daylight I'll be gone.
