

The Last Goodbye

Jon Secada

It's a different silence
Things are not the same way anymore
My eyes could not believe it
When the sky came tumbling down to the floor
There's so many feelings
So many fears
We haven't felt before
Tell me what went wrong
Tell me where's the love

It's so hard to have this pain without an answer
How do we begin
To heal so many broken hearts?
How do we begin to face the anger?
How do we face the morning after
Without the faces that won't come home again?
Faith is the only thing we've got to hold on
Love's the only reason that I know we can go on
No one's gonna change what we believe in
Who would've ever realized that morning was the last goodbye?

Freedom makes us stronger
The stars and stripes will never be the same
Step by step we'll make it
It's our pride that they can't take away
One and all together
See the dawn of a brand new day
America united we will find a way

It's so hard to have this pain without an answer
How do we begin
To heal so many broken hearts?
How do we begin to face the anger?
How do we face the morning after?

It's so hard to have this pain without an answer
How do we begin
To heal so many broken hearts?
How do we begin to face the anger?
How do we face the morning after?

Faith is the only thing we've got to hold on
Love's the only reason that I know we can go on
No one's gonna change what we believe in
Who would've ever realized that morning was the last goodbye.....?
