

Want You, Miss You, Love You

Jon Secada

Want you, miss you, love you I do
Never want to be this far from you again
I long to touch you and I need to hold you

Beautiful and priceless are insufficient words
Though I know I'll be back, baby
Why am I here now?

Want you, miss you, love you I do
Blinded and foolish as I am
I promise never to forget

What I'm going through
I promise never to forget how much
Want you, miss you, love you

When I find myself in your arms again
I'll remember when and I will never let go
No, I will never let go

Want you, miss you, love you I do
Hopelessly longing for the touch of your hand
And baby here I am nothing but blue

Baby you'll never know how much
Want you, miss you, love you
Want you, miss you, love you
