

You Should Be Mine

Jon Secada

It was only last night
That I noticed something wasn't right
But then she looked into my eyes
And left me wondering and feeling like such a fool, this can't be true

Why is this happening to me?
I really want you like you can't believe
But I guess I'm gonna play the game
So before you go there's something that you should've known

I've been thinking that you should be mine
Even though you got a man, I'm sure you can tell him goodbye
I've been thinking that you should be mine
'Cause even though you got a man, I'm sure you can tell him goodbye

I keep on trying to forget
Sometimes I wish that we had never met
I wouldn't know how to explain
'Cause there's no excuse for loving you there's so much I could lose

'Cause there's no easy way
It's not my place to make you wanna say
And I know you want me to
Are you ready now, it's up to you, what do you wanna do?

I've been thinking that you should be mine
Even though you got a man, I'm sure you can tell him goodbye
I've been thinking that you should be mine
'Cause even though you got a man, I'm sure you can tell him goodbye Y eah

So now that we both understand
What's really going on
Make no mistake, girl, yeah
Say what you really want, what you really want

Don't be afraid of what you feel
'Cause I'll be here for you
But you gotta let him know, it's time that he should go
If you want me girl, you gotta show me

I've been thinking that you should be mine
Even though you got a man, I'm sure you can tell him goodbye
I've been thinking that you should be mine
'Cause even though you got a man, I'm sure you can tell him goodbye

I've been thinking that you should be mine
Even though you got a man, I'm sure you can tell him goodbye
I've been thinking that you should be mine
'Cause even though you got a man, I'm sure you can tell him goodbye
