

Bravery

Jonah33

My hands are numb and my heart is racing
My stomach's sick with anticipation
What am I doing here
Everything's so unclear
There's only one way from this situation

I know now what it is I've got to do
But do I have what it takes to follow through
And I can't find peace of mind but I just can't believe
That dying here inside my fear
Could be my destiny

Bravery, don't leave me here I need you to save me
Save me from this mess I'm in
Honestly my second thoughts are killing me
Bravery, fear can never be the death of me

Right now I'm comfortable but if I go astray man
Either way I'm miserable
I can't stay but I hate change
And I've come to this conclusion
That my fear of death brings no solutions

Bravery, don't leave me here I need you to save me
Save me from this mess I'm in
Honestly my second thoughts are killing me
Bravery, fear can never be the death of me

Bravery, don't leave me here I need you to save me
Save me from this mess I'm in
Honestly my second thoughts are killing me
Bravery, fear can never be the death of me

Bravery, Bravery
Bravery, fear can never be the death of me
Bravery, fear can never be the death of me
Bravery, fear can never be the death of me
Bravery, fear can never be the death of me
