

Need To Let Go

Jonah33

It comes in like a flood
And shoves off just the same
Never a warning
With no one to blame

And not even time can offer a remedy
Like a knife through my heart
A kiss to my face
Is your memory

Then I saw a face
And I swear it was you
And I miss you so much

Hey can you hear me?
I need you to know
That if it's all right with you
I just need to let go

'Cause time waits for no one
And life carries on
And I'll never forget you
I just need to let go
I just need to let go

And you'll never find mercy
In the cycle of life
You can't bend the rules
'Cause everyone dies

When my boy looks at me
Like I looked at you
I'll be king of the world
If he loves me half as much as I loved you

Then I saw a face
And I swear it was you
And I miss you so much

Hey can you hear me?
I need you to know
That if it's all right with you
I just need to let go

'Cause time waits for no one
And life carries on
And I'll never forget you
I just need to let go
I just need to let go

Hey can you hear me?
I need you to know
That if it's all right with you
I just need to let go

'Cause time waits for no one
And life carries on

And I'll never forget you
I just need to let go
