

Scream

Jonah33

Scream at the top of your lungs
If you're ready to die tonight
To die tonight for what you believe

What's going on, where have all our voices gone
And why are we afraid of words like war

Need I remind you that we are an army
And armies engage, yes armies engage when the threat is too much to ignore

Sounds like we should sound the alarm
Scream at the top of your lungs
If you're ready to die tonight
To die tonight for what you believe
Time isn't on our side
Never on our side
Never has been a friend of mine
So just scream with me
If you're ready to die tonight
For what it is you believe

Don't look now
But some of our worst enemies
Have found their way inside these walls we've made

These are the moments
That define us as cowards or men full of valor
So shut up and fight
And don't let 'em know you're afraid
I'm not one to lay down and die

Scream at the top of your lungs
If you're ready to die tonight
To die tonight for what you believe
Time isn't on our side
Never on our side
Never has been a friend of mine
So just scream with me
If you're ready to die tonight
For what it is you believe

Scream at the top of your lungs
If you're ready to die tonight
To die tonight for what you believe
Time isn't on our side
Never on our side
Never has been a friend of mine
So just scream with me
If you're ready to die tonight
For what it is you believe
