

Everything

Jonathan Clay

And do you know
The kind of power that you hold, yeah
Sometimes I wonder
If it ever gets old

I watch you go around
And put up your walls
I wonder what it'd take
To make them fall

'Cause you've got me down
Got me confused
And lately I don't know what to do

I've given you everything
That I have to give
Somehow you've got me doing things
I never did
And I'm trying not
To lose my head
But something keeps on telling me
That I can't give up yet
No I can't give up yet

And do you know
What you do when you smile?
Sometimes I wish you'd hold it
For awhile, yeah

I watch their faces
As you pass them by
And I wonder what it's like
To not even try

'Cause you've got me down
Got me confused
And lately I don't know what to do

I've given you everything
That I have to give
Somehow you've got me doing things
I never did
And I'm trying not
To lose my head
But something keeps on telling me
That I can't give up yet

Could you give me half the time
To let me change your stubborn mind
'Cause tonight I've got a feeling
That you're much simpler
Than you like to think
That you are, to think that you are.
To think that you are, oh.

I've given you everything

That I have to give
I never did
And I'm trying not, trying not
To lose my head
But something keeps on telling me
That I, I can't give you

Everything
That I have to give
I never did
To lose my head
But something keeps on telling me
That I can't give up yet, no
No I can't give up yet, no
No I can't give up yet
No I, I can't give up yet
No I can't give up yet...
