

I Am Not Gone

Jonathan Clay

Look around
You see me in the ocean and the trees
And you'll know it's me
By the way I make you feel

When you're down, and you feel like you've lost more than just a friend Know that in the end we'll all be home again

I am not gone, I'm just waiting
You cannot yet go,
you're memory is fading
How are you to ever know

It's an emotional waterfall
It's an emotional waterfall

You'll survive, so listen close,
To the way the wind in moving through the trees,
You'll know it's me
By the way I make you feel

When you're alone and you need someone to talk about the day,
You can rest assured that I'm not far away

I am not gone, I'm just waiting
You cannot yet go,
you're memory is fading
How are you to ever know

It's an emotional waterfall
It's an emotional waterfall

You'll be amazed at how the time can fill the place that used to be mine You'll be amazed at how you find that some things never change

I am not gone, I'm just waiting
You cannot yet go,
you're memory is fading
How are you to ever know

It's an emotional waterfall
It's an emotional waterfall

Because I am not gone, I'm jut waiting
You cannot yet go, your memory is fading
But how are you to ever know
It's an emotional waterfall
Oh you know, it's an emotional waterfall

Waterfall..
Waterfall..
Waterfall..

So look around,
you'll see me in the ocean and the trees
And you'll know it's me
